SUMMARY: Mostly cloudy conditions will persist over southern Ghana from midnight into the dawn hours with chances of rainfall activities over some places within the coastal and inland areas. However, partly cloudy conditions are anticipated over the northern sector with slightly hazy conditions occurring over the extreme upper regions. Misty or foggy conditions are likely to be experienced during the early morning hours over parts of the coastal, mountainous and forest areas. As the day progresses, most parts of the country will have periods of sunshine and clouds with chances of rainfall over some places slightly north of the coastline and within the middle sector later in the afternoon.
