Transition	23	36
Northern	27	39

SUMMARY: Thunderstorms or rain of varying intensity will persist through the night into the early hours of the morning across parts of the northern, transition, and the middle sectors. However, partly cloudy will remain within some few areas within the middle and the coast. Mist or fog patches may form over coastal, forest, and mountainous areas which will reduce visibility in southern Ghana with few areas anticipated to experience slight to moderate rains.
