SUMMARY: Mostly cloudy conditions amidst slight rain are expected for some areas along the coastline this morning. Mist or fog patches will be observed along the coast, mountainous and forest areas with reduced visibility. However, a rainstorm sighted at northern Benin is expected to move westwards and affect the northern sector with thunderstorms or rain later in the day. Partly sunny afternoon will be experienced over most places within the country. There is also the likelihood of slight to moderate rain within the southern half from late afternoon into the evening hours.
