

24-HOUR FORECAST FOR GHANA VALID FROM 6AM TODAY

SUMMARY: As mentioned in the weather update earlier, thunderstorms with rain of varying intensities will be experienced in most places within the transition and the northern sectors, however, cloudy conditions with the chance of thunderstorms with or without rain are expected over parts of the coast and inland areas this morning. During the afternoon hours, clouds and sun will alternate over most places within the country with the likelihood of thundery and rainfall activities occurring in parts of the coast, middle and transition sectors. Early morning mist and fog patches will form over the coast, forest and mountainous areas.
