SUMMARY: Cloudy weather will dominate all sectors of the country throughout the forecast period amidst few cases of slight rain within the south this evening. However, the remnants of the rainstorm mentioned earlier are expected to continue to induce cloudiness with the likelihood of thunderstorms or rain over parts of the northern sector. Tomorrow morning, slight rain or mist is forecast for the southern half whilst thunderstorms or rain are expected for the northern half into the afternoon hours.

NB: Cool temperatures will be experienced across the country during the night and early morning hour
