Transition	21	33
Northern	23	36

SUMMARY: The early hours of this morning will be misty or foggy over the hilly and forested areas, as well as few areas along the coast which will reduce visibility range. However, this weather condition is expected to clear and progress to mostly sunny weather across the entire country with few clouds. There is the possibility of localised thundery showers over the inland areas of the coast stretching into the middle and transition belts from late afternoon into the evening.
