SUMMARY: Mist or fog patches will form over the coastline, forest areas and highlands this morning, reducing visibility while light rain affects portions of the coastal belt. As the day advances, sunny conditions with occasional cloud cover will dominate most parts of southern Ghana, whereas the northern areas remain relatively dry with slight haze. By late afternoon through the evening, showers or thunderstorms are likely across sections of the coastal, inland, forest and transitional zones.

NB: Relatively cool night and early morning temperatures are expected over the upper regions.
