SUMMARY: A mixture of clouds and sunshine will dominate over most portions of southern Ghana this afternoon. Rain bearing clouds are expected to develop and produce localised thundershowers over places within the coastal, middle and transition sectors from late afternoon into the evening hours. Northern Ghana will generally experience sunny weather amidst slightly hazy conditions with isolated cases of thunderstorms or rain over some places within the savannah region later in the day.

NB: Relatively cool night and early morning temperatures are expected over the upper regions
