SUMMARY: Partly cloudy conditions are expected to dominate most areas of southern Ghana this afternoon into the evening. Nonetheless, localised development of rain and thunder clouds are likely to affect parts of the forest zone, some areas along the coast and a few places slightly north of the coastline from mid-afternoon into the evening hours. Meanwhile, the northern sector will experience slightly hazy and fairly dry conditions throughout the duration of the forecast.

NB: Relatively cool night and early morning temperatures are expected over the upper regions
