SUMMARY: Cloudy weather will dominate southern Ghana this evening with cases of thunderstorms or rain persisting over some areas within the middle, coastal and transition sectors. Northern Ghana will remain fairly dry and hazy throughout the duration of the forecast. Early tomorrow morning, mist or fog patches will develop within the coastal, forested and hilly areas, potentially reducing visibility over the aforementioned areas. Visibility across the country is expected to range from 3000 meters to 8000 meters.
