Northern	24	36

SUMMARY: Mostly cloudy weather will prevail over the transition and northern belts this morning with pockets of localised rain affecting some few areas. The middle and coastal sector on the other hand, will be dominated by misty and foggy conditions which will reduce visibility in the early hours of the morning. However, these conditions are expected to advance to mostly sunny weather in the afternoon with chances of localised thunderstorms or rain over portions of coast, middle, transition and northern sectors from late afternoon into the evening.
