SUMMARY: Early morning mist and fog patches are expected to form over the coastal, forest and higher grounds. As the morning progresses, partly cloudy conditions will dominate across the country. During the afternoon hours, the weather will generally be bright and sunny across all sectors; however, from late afternoon into the evening, thunderstorms or rain are anticipated to affect parts of the middle and transition sectors. Meanwhile, slightly hazy conditions will prevail over the extreme northern portions of the country throughout the forecast period.
